

THE READING APPROACHES

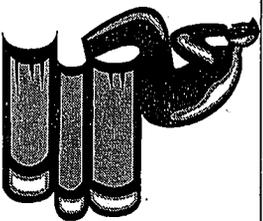

Read Aloud

- teacher reading teacher's choice
- students listen without copy of text
- exposes students to diverse texts, unique language

Shared Reading

- students follow fluent reader voice
- text is accessible for reference & support
- builds language pool

Guided Reading

- typically conducted with small groups of students
- has specific purpose(s) around understanding how reading works
- students read text independently; teacher facilitates strategic reading

Independent Reading

- student choice based on needs & interest
- represents opportunity for extended time with connected texts
- offers opportunities for developing extensive word banks

